Lanesboro, Ma. (February 16, 2016) - As any bride will tell you, planning a wedding isn't easy. There are seemingly a million decisions to be made; from the dress, to the invitations; the flowers to the caterer; the cake, the photographer, the music, and the list goes on. Depending on the bride, these choices can range from trivial to critical.

But there is one decision that ranks above all others, vital to even the most nonchalant bride, that will largely determine the outcome of the entire evening. The venue. And when Glori Blatt, a bride from Massachusetts dreaming of sunsets and lakefront ceremonies, arrived at The Lake House Guest Cottages of the Berkshires, she knew she found the perfect venue.

"When I found The Lake House Guest Cottages of the Berkshires online it almost seemed too good to be true," said Glori Blatt, a bride-to-be currently planning her 2017 nuptial. "The website described a brand new beautiful lodge with an industrial kitchen perfect for visiting caterers, adorable guest cottages, the ability to accommodate 30 overnight guests, and most importantly, a gorgeous lakefront view complete with a dock and boathouse. The idea of getting married as the sun sank into the water just felt right.”

The Lake House Guest Cottages, a collection of four upscale, private homes built in 2015, offer some of the most luxurious and modern amenities found in the Berkshires. Each home features a contemporary open floor plan, fully equipped kitchens with granite countertops, gas fireplaces, warm wooden interiors, plush king-sized beds and astounding views of Pontoosuc Lake, framed by the picturesque Berkshire Mountains. The property also includes a boat slip and private dock, as well as a communal boat house stocked with a wide array of watercraft.

“Brand new flat screen TVs adorned the wall in each and every room, and natural light streamed in from large windows at every angle,” said Blatt. “Outside, a beautiful stone deck perfect for the intimate ceremony we had envisioned overlooked the water, and the strategically built cottages, each with their own brand new barbecue grill, surrounded a central green space that felt both spacious and secluded. As I wandered the property, taking in the picturesque view, I marveled at the way Eric had managed to create a place that so elegantly married the rustic charm of a secluded lake house with the luxurious design and details of a five star hotel: truly the perfect combination.”

The property can accommodate a guest list of 150 people, and the four luxury cottages can host up to 30 guest for an overnight stay. Couples who decide to book their weddings have exclusive use of the entire property for their desired weekend, which includes access to the outdoor fire pits and grills, as well as the boathouse and private dock.

“If you decide to have your wedding with us, rest assured there will be no limits to how you can plan your ceremony,” said says Eric Taylor, the Lake House’s developer and owner. “Our personal planning and design team help capture each bride’s personal vision and style in every detail to create a a truly unforgettable celebration.”

The lodge, the largest of the four cottages at 4,000 sq.ft., can be transformed into an amazing interior reception area. The great room, featuring high vaulted ceiling, a large stone fireplace and a wrap-around staircase, connects directly to the illuminated stone patio, where guests will have an unobstructed view of the entire lake.

“When we left The Lake House, I was sad to say goodbye, but happy, relaxed, content,” said Blatt. “Though we had visited several other venues on our trip to the Berkshires – several of which were more than twice the cost – we were completely in agreement: The Lake House Guest Cottages of the Berkshires was the wedding venue of our dreams.”
